BUYING BACK STATE LANDS.

New York, like Pennsylvania, has a forestry commission, which seems, however, to have proceeded further with its work than Professor Rothrock and his associates. While the latter have busied themselves in examining the condition of the forests of Pennsylvania and making addresses before the State Board of Agriculture and other organizations interested in the welfare of the Commonwealth, the New York commission have come to the conclusion that a great wrong has been done to the State, which can only be undone by the expenditure of a large sum of money. A report has been made to the New York Legislature recommending the appropriation of $3,000,000 to buy back sufficient of the wild lands of the State to form a great State park at the headwaters of its chief river system.

Perhaps Professor Rothrock will find a similar condition existing in Pennsylvania and report a similar recommendation when his report is due, which is not until the meeting of the next Legislature. The land policy of the State has certainly been quite as foolish as that of New York, for a great forest sections at the headwaters of the Delaware, Susquehanna and Allegheny rivers were long ago disposed of to private purchasers at very low prices and have been in a great measure stripped of their forests, thus drying up in a greater or less degree the sources of those streams. The mountainous sections thus stripped of their virgin forests, when not devoted to agricultural purposes are ravaged periodically by forest fires, which destroy every vestige of growth spared by the lumberman's axe.

To put a complete stop to these ravages of the forest area in the sections vital to the maintenance of our great water courses the State should own the lands, convert them into public parks and propagate and maintain a perpetual forest growth. Laws rigidly executed can do much to restrict the ravages of forest fires, but the private owners of the mountain lands composing the principal water sheds may do with their lands what they please, and it often happens that private profit may be best secured by a course exactly opposite to the requirements of sound public policy.

It would have been far cheaper, of course, for the Commonwealth to have retained the lands in which our great water courses originate than to buy them back now. The wisest policy was not pursued, however, and the question to be considered now is whether the State retains such control of the forests owned by private parties that the sources of our streams can be adequately protected. If not, the repurchase of the lands will eventually become necessary, for it will not do to allow our forest area to become so restricted as practically to destroy our own river systems.

REWARD FOR BEN. BUTLER'S HEAD.
The Charleston, S. C., papers of Jan. 12, 1863, had the following advertisement in them:

Ten thousand dollars reward ($10,000) President Davis having proclaimed Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts, to be a felon, deserving of capital punishment, for the deliberate murder of William B. Mumford, a citizen of the Confederate States, at New Orleans, and having ordered that the said Benjamin F. Butler be considered or treated as an out law and common enemy of mankind, and that, in the event of his capture the officer in command of the capturing force do cause him to be immediately executed by hanging, the undersigned hereby offers a reward of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars for the capture and delivery of the said Benjamin F. Butler, dead or alive, to any proper Confederate authority.

RICHARD YEADON.
Charleston, S. C., Jan. 1, 1863.

Mumford spoken of was tried by Court martial in New Orleans and shot for cutting down the American flag, whilst Gen. Butler was in command of that city. President Davis spoken of was the Jefferson Davis who was leader of the Southern Democrats until the end of the slave soldier's rebellion.

DO NOT CROSS THE LIMB.
From the Medical Age.

Women who sit with their legs crossed, to sew or read or to hold the baby, are not aware that they are inviting serious physical ailments, but it is true nevertheless. When a man crosses his legs he places the ankle of one limb across the knee of the other and rests it lightly there. A woman, more modest and restricted in her movements, rests the entire weight of one limb on the upper part of the other and this pressure upon the sensitive nerves and cords, if indulged in for continued lengths of time, as is often done by ladies who sew or embroider, will produce disease. Sciatica, neuralgia and other serious troubles frequently result from this simple cause. The muscles and nerves in the upper portion of a woman's leg are very sensitive, and much of her whole physical structure can become deranged if they are overtaxed in the manner referred to.

DR. SCHAEFFER'S DREAM.

Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the delivery of an address before the State Board of Agriculture, in session at Harrisburg last week, gave a novel interpretation of a dream: Said he:

I had a dream last night. I dreamed that the day of judgment had come and that I had been sent there as a reporter. I saw one man after another stepping up to a pair of scales as nicely adjusted as the scales they use in the chemical department of the State College. On one side of the scales were placed the merits and good works and good qualities of those who came up to be tried, and on the other side were placed the short comings and the sins of omission. I saw one man come up and the scales hung trembling, when a row of school children approached, and one child after another threw a hair upon that side of the scale that contained the short comings, and down went that side, and with it the man whose character was tried went down into the depths of oblivion, and when I asked St. Peter for the record he gave me the man's name. I looked up the record, and I found that he had been a school director, a member of the Legislature, and in both bodies he had voted against a seven-month's school term. These were the children who came up, and from 1,768 districts in this State of Pennsylvania put in what they had against that man.

The day has passed when we take offense at dreams, as was done in the days of Joseph and his brethren. We no longer attach much significance to dreams. But let us come down from dreams to the world of reality and see whether there are not some things possible and practical as far as our schools are concerned.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

The state board of agriculture convened in annual session at Harrisburg Wednesday. The report of Secretary Edge shows that during the farmers' institute season of 1893-4 there have been held eighty-four institutes. Dates and plans have been fixed for thirty-eight more. The institutes of 1892-3 were held at an average expense of $82.57, while those of this year will average $63.33. Secretary Edge says the work of the board in preventing the spread of contagious disease among domestic animals is by no means the least important of its business. During the sixty-two gandered horses were killed and $757 paid to their owners. During year 1893 the same period thirty-two cows with tuberculosis were killed, the total amount being paid for them being $158. The record for the present fertilizer year shows that 512 brands of fertilizers have been regularly licensed for sale in this state. The annual consumption of this goods is about 150,000 tons a year, for which is paid not less than $3,750,000 in cash.

The financial report for the year follows: Expended for members, $1,562.06; for institutes, $7,698.90; for diseases, $641.87; for office, $689.94; total, $10,592.77. The total annual appropriation for all purposes is $14,000; amount expended for all purposes, $10,592.77; amount yet available for all purposes, $3,407.23. Amount expended for fertilizers, $7,189.08.

COURT NEWS.

The trial of the case of Mary V. Hale against the Bellefonte Central Railroad company, an action in trespass to recover damages to property in College township, about one mile west of State College, took up all of Monday's session of court and until eleven o'clock Tuesday when the jury retired. The case was conducted by W. F. Reeder for the plaintiff and John Blanchard for the defense. There was a large number of witnesses on both sides. Those for the plaintiff estimated the damages at from five to eight hundred dollars, while the witnesses for the defense thought from seventy-five to one hundred and fifty dollars would cover everything. The Court's charge was an able one.

On the convening of court Tuesday afternoon the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $350.

The next case taken up was that of Conrad Immel vs. Beecher & Sober, an action to recover an alleged balance of $716 due on contract for timber furnished. Bower & Orvis are the Attorneys for the plaintiff and Beaver & Dale for the defendants.

—Mr. Samuel Orris, who had his one finger cut off and another smashed in a sausage machine last fall, was in Bellefonte Monday to have the second finger amputated. The member would not heal and there was danger of blood poisoning.

THE HARMON AND WIFE TRIAL.

There has been unfavorable comment on the action taken by the attorney's for the Commonwealth and the Court continuing the case of Harmon and wife until the April term of court. The community was justly incensed at the crime imputed to the defendants and naturally desired prompt justice meted out to the parties.

Harmon and wife were only arrested on Saturday evening previous to the following Monday, the commencement of the Quarter Sessions. The indictment was only found on Wednesday of the court. On Thursday forenoon, witnesses were privately examined, to learn what they could testify to, and none of their evidence thus elicited would have been sufficient to a certainty of conviction without the evidence of the injured boy, George. Physicians were instructed to visit and examine the lad and report to Court, which they did, and informed the Court that it would endanger the boy's life to bring him into court and that he was too weak to undergo the ordeal of testifying. Under these circumstances, the attorney's for the Commonwealth, in order that justice would not fail to be meted out to the prisoners, and as they had learned from the examination of witnesses present of other witnesses who had positive knowledge of the acts of the prisoners, now living from 15 to 30 miles away, they asked the Court to continue the case until next term of Court. After the Court heard all the circumstances, it wisely and justly continued the case, consequently the Commonwealth's attorneys and the Court should be commended for their action in the case, instead of being unfavorably criticised, for if the trial of the parties accused had been pushed at that time, under the only evidence that could have been produced, in all probability they would have been acquitted.

HAILED AS A DELIVERER.

The rejoicings in Berlin when Bismarck reached the city were such as might have been expected from a people welcoming a deliverer. And the impression is growing that it is as such he went to them. When the announcement of the Emperor's desire for reconciliation was made known, word came that the Italian Premier Crispi suggested the reconciliation. In Paris the object is believed to be to detach Russia from the French alliance, which would put war out of the question. France would not dare single-handed to challenge Germany in the face of her Italian and Austrian allies. Bismarck's policy while in office was to maintain the closest and most friendly relations possible with the Czar. In view of this his influence would be of the utmost importance in an attempt to draw Russia away from France. Success in that would be the means of relieving the tremendous tax-pressure on the people now, put on by the necessity of being prepared for conflict, which, as things are, might begin any day. Beside this, better relations with Russia would help on the commercial policy of the Emperor and improve perhaps the trade of Germany. Bismarck has opposed some features of that policy, but on good terms again with the Emperor, he may see things in a different light. So it is hardly extravagant to say that it was a deliverer that the people of Berlin hailed the return of the man who had done so much for them in the trying days of old.

WAR IN BOGGS TOWNSHIP.

On Saturday, January 27th, at 2 p. m., the remnants of the democratic party of the township met in the Central City school house to nominate a ticket for township officers. The caucus numbered eleven men all told, three of whom were republicans. Boss G. N. Lyman, of Roland, took the chair and in addressing the caucus stated the object of the meeting and that none but straight out democrats would be allowed to vote. At this juncture J. C. Thomas, an old veteran who, since the ruling of Hoke Smith, is more of a Republican than a Democrat, moved that "this caucus nominate a ticket without regard to party, and that all voters present be allowed a voice in the caucus." This was carried by acclamation. This action, not meeting with the wishes of Boss Lyman, he announced that there would be a democratic caucus at 7 o'clock p. m., and withdrew from the caucus. But this did not stop business; the caucus proceeded and nominated a ticket without regard to party. At 7 p. m. the Lyman caucus met and nominated a "Lyman Democratic" ticket. This last ticket will stand about as great a chance as Mitchell did with Corbett.

In fact, there are very few democrats left in Boggs township, and if things don't soon change for the better, there will be none left but Lyman himself.

A LOOKER ON

THE JUBILEE SINGERS.

Of Fisk's Jubilee Singers, which will appear in Bellefonte next Monday night, Edwin Gillette, secretary of the Ithaca,

N. Y., Y. M. C. A., in a letter to manager Loudin says: It has seemed to me the songs of your Jubilee Singers, as rendered year after year in our city, would cease to please and draw full houses, but such does not seem to be the case. Your singing pleasures equally well year by year, and for the last three years has given better satisfaction than ever before.

FIRST TOUR TO FLORIDA VIA PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

This year's series of Pennsylvania Railroad tours to the land of sunshine and flowers will be inaugurated on January 30th when a luxurious special train, composed entirely of Pullman sleeping and dining cars, will leave New York at 9.30, Trenton 11.08 A.M., Philadelphia 12.10, Wilmington 12.50 P.M. and thence via the most direct route to the destination point—Jacksonville.

At this latter place the tourists are left to follow their own inclination as to where they shall spend the two weeks allotted to them. The great number of side trips that are available renders a selection from which a choice may be made to suit the desires of the most exacting. The unsurpassed climate according with the cloudless azure-blue sky throughout the immense confines of the State, and the healthful effects to be enjoyed by a sojourn within its borders are sure to be appreciated by the strong as well as the feeble, in whatever direction they are prompted.

$50 from New York, $48 from Philadelphia, and proportionate rates from intermediate or contiguous points within a generous radius are made on the most liberal basis, and include railroad fare, sleeping accommodations, and meals en route in both directions while on a special train.

The remaining dates of the series are February 13 and 27, and March 13 and 27th.

PASSING AWAY.

The fool killer is getting in his work in various ways, and the fools are really passing away. The breed is running out. Take a walk through any of the cemeteries throughout the country and you will believe with us that the fools are really passing away. You pass the last resting place of the man who blew into an empty gun; the modest tombstone of the girl who lighted the fire with kerosene; and the grass carpeted mound of the boy who took the mule by the tail. The tall monument of the man who didn't know it was loaded, overshadows the dugout of him who jumped from the train to save a ten rod walk. Side by side lies the ethereal creature who always kept the cornet laced up to the last hole, and the intelligent idiot who rode a bicycle nine miles in ten minutes. Here reposes the young doctor who took a dose of his own medicine, and the old fool who married a young wife. Right over yonder in the northeast corner, the breezes sigh through the weeping willow that bends over the fellow who told his mother-in-law she lied. Down there in the potter's field, with his feet sticking out to the blasts of winter and the rays of summer's sun, is stretched all the earthly remains of the misguided regulator who tried to lick an editor; while the broken bones of the man who would not pay for his paper are piled up in the corner of the fence. Down by the gates reposes the woman who kept baking powder side by side with strychnine in the cupboard. The fool killer continues to gather them one by one, and by and by we will have a pretty decent world to live in.

DECEMBER AND MAY.

Constable George W. Curtin last night brought Daniel Hardy and his young wife back to Tyrone, the former to answer the charge of abduction, the latter that of obtaining her marriage license under false pretence.

Hardy is by marriage the grandfather of the girl whose name was Myrtle Butler. She is aged 20 years and has been blind from birth. Until January 5 she lived with her mother, Mrs. C. Hardy, in this place. On that date she ran away with Hardy, a man of perhaps 55 years. Together they walked to Dix station where they took the train for Bellefonte and at that place secured a marriage license. They then proceeded to Lemont where they were regularly married, after which they journeyed over the mountain to Greenwood Furnace where they remained at the home of Hardy's sister until yesterday when Constable Curtin found them and escorted them back to Tyrone. The warrants had been sworn out by Mrs. Hardy, the girl's mother. Hardy is in the lockup and his young wife is at her home.

The blind girl claims to be well satisfied with the match and her husband declares he wishes to provide her a good home, so that it is likely the case may be amicably settled, when the hearing takes place.—Tyrone Herald.

DENIES THE ACCUSATIONS.

Bellefonte's Poor House Keeper Tells His Side of the Story.

Mr. Editor: Please let me have a little space in your columns to correct those lies which were published last week about that Harman boy, as I keep the poor house for James McClure, the poor overseer of Bellefonte. On Saturday evening, January 20th, they brought him here as black as a coal. Sunday morning I took him out of bed and washed him all over and put him to bed. When the doctor came he cut the night-shirt off him and told me I should put no more on him, just wrap him in a sheet. I done so. On Monday evening two men came from town and said they would take my place, and I should go to bed. At seven o'clock next morning the men left. I can prove by these men that everything was all right. I went to do my outside work about that time. Those sharpers came along about a half an hour after those men left and wanted to see the boy. I took them in the room and went to breakfast. While I was at the table Mr. McClure came to see the boy and told me he was in a bad condition. I went at once and we fixed him up and cleaned the bed. The next thing I heard I was reported before Judge Furst. They wanted the district attorney to do it, but he is too much of a man; he wouldn't pay no attention to it. He was here and saw how the boy was treated. There were twenty-five hundred people here to see him and of all this number there were only eight or ten men that found fault—that he wasn't treated right. They say they found the room very dirty and the boy laying on filth and naked. That is another lie. The boy was wrapped in a sheet all the time. They even say the bed clothes were filthy. Now I will prove that room was scrubbed clean on Monday morning, and from that until ten o'clock at night there were at least seven hundred people in that room through that mud. No sane person would look for a clean room next morning, or talk about it. I can prove that there were twenty-three sheets and nine ham and blankets taken off that bed and washed from Sunday evening, the 21st, until the 28th. Now reader, judge for yourself about the truthfulness of those men. I did not know them all. Among them were J. Cincy Hoffer, J. W. Weber, F. Brown, J. W. Runkle and J. Meyers from Phillipsburg and Pennsylvany, where all the sharp people come from. They wanted to show their ignorance before thousands of people. Mr. Editor, you know when those county bums come to town they want to show off. They even criticised McClure for not furnishing the necessary wants. We had all we needed, but it seems they knew our business better than we did. If anybody doubts these facts, he can call on Doctor Hoy, who was here every day. They didn't injure me very much. I have too much praise. The head men of the public charity society say they never saw the house in as good a condition since it is a poorhouse as they have since we are here. The people think it was a very little trick.

JOSEPH GARBRICK.

TWO ORDINANCES.

Bellefonte has an ordinance which requires all property owners to keep their pavements clean of ice and snow. In their failure to do so, there is a provision which provides for the clearing of same and collecting money for the payment of same from the property owner. How many pavements in Bellefonte are today free of ice? They are indeed a scarce article. And in the condition they now are they are very dangerous to life and limb. Why don't the proper authorities see to it that this ordinance is enforced.

There is another ordinance which Tuesday evening was flagrantly violated, and that is in reference to boys coasting. A boy on Lamb street ran into a parcel of children but, fortunately, no one was injured. It is the duty of the police to see that this practice is stopped and that boys coasting keep in the streets, and they should perform that duty at once, and thereby prevent the possibility of a serious accident.

RULING NOT ACCEPTED.

At a special meeting of the borough council held last night that body decided to not accept the recent ruling of Judge Furst giving Mrs. Lohr $1,050 in her suit against the borough for damages for injuries caused by a defective boardwalk. It is our opinion that the case will again be taken before the Supreme court for adjustment.—Phillipsburg Journal.

According to the above, and according to Judge Furst's decision, the jury's verdict of $1,800 will now stand. But, of course, in Phillipsburg's council not accepting the Court's rulings they as much as declare their intention of again taking the case to the Supreme Court. As the borough lost the case once before the higher court, there is still a good chance of Mrs Lohr coming out victor in the end.

GARBRICK'S STATEMENT.

Believing that the accused should always be given a chance to speak in their own defense, we to-day give considerable space to a communication from Joseph Garbrick relative to the report made by the grand jury to the Court last week on the condition of the Harman boy. If everything Mr. Garbrick says is correct he had a just right to feel indignant, and has an equal just right to set himself right in the eyes of the public. But, according to his own statement, there was a great lack of judgment exercised by somebody in allowing "twenty-five hundred people" visit a boy sick that his recovery was in doubt. That over seven hundred people were allowed to tramp in and out on Monday was a great wrong to the boy and very poor management on the part of overseer McClure who, Mr. Garbrick alleges, had charge of the case. Of course, it would be impossible to keep any room in good condition under such circumstances, and this fact alone is ample excuse for the condition in which the grand jurors reported finding the room.

The condition of the poor house or the good management of its keeper has never been called into question, nor is it now. And further, we have not the least doubt but that the Harman boy is receiving the best of care and attention—as good as he could get anywhere, and but for that one act of indiscretion in allowing the boy to be made an exhibit to satisfy the idle curiosity of "twenty-five hundred people" it is likely there would have been no occasion for any special comment from the grand jury or anyone else.

A GREAT LITERARY SENSATION.

In the New York Ledger of February 17th, the Washington's Birthday number, will be commenced this great novel, Mr. Hall Caine's masterpiece, entitled "The Manxman." The inhabitants of the Isle of Man, a little island off the coast of Scotland, devoted to fishing and agriculture, are known as Manxmen, a sturdy race, full of native pride, traditional propensities, sincere, burning and of a genuine manliness. This has always been a favorite field of the author. His great novel, "The Deemster," portrays these people. Hall Caine's deep feeling finds an appropriate outlet in these strong, hearty, incorruptible characters, their lives of peril and suffering and labor. Mr. Caine has always delighted in romantic adventure; his characters are always alive and at work, doing something. His philosophy of novel writing is contained in some words lately addressed by him to an American friend: "Let American authors give us that simple humanity, and it will be quite gross enough and quite palpable enough to our assurance of reality. Let them tell us of the men who make the romance of American life, and we shall not complain that they belong to shadow land." When asked in what way the future of American literature and drama will lie, he answered: "In the way of all English literature, all English science, all English art, all English thought, all English life—the way of romance. No fable was ever so romantic as the history of America." This is the temper of Mr. Hall Caine, and such is the author of our new Ledger story, "The Manxman." No reader of novels can afford to miss it. It is the greatest story of our day. It seizes hold of the heart with a grip that is not relaxed until the whole great tragedy is worked out and the fate of the men and women written down. In reading this story the great lesson is constantly impressed upon the mind that circumstances are quite as powerful in life as character, and that opportunity missed is equivalent to no opportunity offered. Such a great novel, so full of deep lessons of life, will create a wide interest in the Ledger among all intelligent readers, during the coming year.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA RECITAL.

Meyer's Orchestra and the Bellefonte Band, which are now under one management, will inaugurate their new "Musical Hall" over the Centre County Bank with a free recital Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. All lovers of music are invited. The ladies especially are invited. Boys will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents. A collection will be lifted to defray the necessary expenses of the recital. If the weather is favorable the Band will parade around the square prior to the concert.

NICE, BUT NOT YET TRUE.

That was a very nice little story the up-town daily published as its most prominent article in its issue of Tuesday, and would certainly be cause for deep regret, if it were true; but fortunately, it is not. We have it on the most reliable authority (not mere street rumor) that negotiations are still pending and that Bellefonte's chances are as good as those of any other place.

A DOUBLE KILLING.

A Drunken Father Murdered His Son and in Turn Was Shot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 29.—John B. Johnson, a ranchman living near Compton, shot and killed his son George to-day, and the boy killed him before his wound proved fatal.

The only eye witness to the tragedy was a 10 year old son and brother, who said: "Father and George had been drinking and got to quarreling as they always do when they drink. They both went out of the house and over toward the barn. George was standing near the barn, and father a little ways off, when father said he would kill George, and went toward him with a revolver in his hand. George ran into the barn and came out with his shot gun. As he came out father shot him. He staggered a little, then put the gun to his shoulder and fired. Father walked about 100 feet and fell, where he was found dead. George walked to the watering trough, where he sat down and died."

The boy said that his father not long ago nearly split the head of his mother open in his drunken spree. "He is a drunkard," said the young boy, "and had got George to drinking. I loved my brother, but I did not care for father, he used us all so bad."

FOUGHT SIX ROUNDS.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., January 29.—The six round glove contest between William Quinn ("Scauld Bill"), of Altoona, and Lincoln Burris, of Huntingdon, came off at 11.15 o'clock in Smithfield township, on the opposite side of town. About seventy spectators witnessed the mill. The fight was for a purse of $25, and the winner to get two-thirds of the gate receipts. According to the decision of Referee Ellis, it was a draw. Burris and Quinn fought at 155 and 137 pounds respectively. All through the contest Quinn led the fighting and showed himself to be very clever. Burris all the while acting on the defensive.

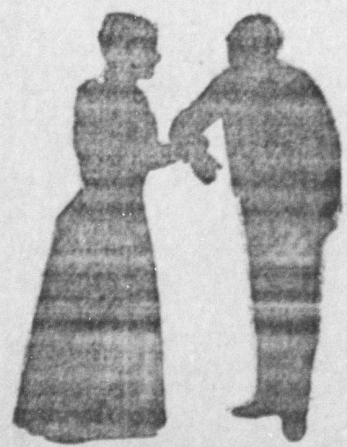

Several rugged blows were exchanged in the first round, Quinn drawing first blood by striking his opponent a swinging right hander on the nose. Burris scored a knock down in the second round by a right hander from the shoulder on Quinn's wind. In the third and fourth rounds some sharp and decisive hitting was done by both men and in the fifth the colored man won the plaudits of the crowd by knocking Burris down. The sixth and last round was notable for vigorous fighting, the laurels being pretty evenly divided. The negro seemed to have a hankering for Burris' wind, but the force of his blows were all most invariably weakened before the desired spot reached. The visiting sports from Altoona had their money on the negro, while Burris was the choice of Huntingdonians.

A BOLD ROBBERY.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 29.—For a year past this section has been at the mercy of an organized band of thieves, who, with each successive robbery, have grown emboldened by their success. Their most audacious piece of work was done last night when they raided the clothing establishment of Thomas H. Suckling, on the public square in this place. The robbers drove up to the front of the store with a wagon and with a hammer broke the heavy plate glass out of the store door. Inside the store the thieves gathered up clothing, shirts, furnishing goods, jewelry, boots and shoes, hats and caps, taking a full load, and then drove away before they were discovered. The loss is estimated at from $500 to $1,000.

able a size smaller shoe to be worn than would otherwise be possible, and consists of a strong though thin band of web, which is fixed around the instep while the foot is off the ground. When it is in place it is comparatively easy to put on a shoe which is altogether too small, and the pressure being on the corset instead of the shoe the latter does not stretch.

A NERVOUS EXPECTANCY.

BRIDGEVILLE, Pa., January 29.—A tour of the riot districts was made by a representative of the United Press this morning on horseback, arriving at this place at noon. At every point there is a nervous expectancy. At Heidelberg, near Woodville, the village was to all appearances almost deserted. Heidelberg is the headquarters of the leaders of the riotous element. Three groups of anarchists are located at this place. Meetings were held every night last week, and it was at these meetings that the plans of Saturday's disastrous work were concerted. It is said that large supplies of ammunition and dynamite have been secreted near Heidelberg by the foreigners. A squad of deputies will probably search the shanties occupied by the Hungarians, Poles and Slavs. It is learned at this place that another call for deputies has been issued by the constables at the Ridgeway Coal Company's mines at Ridgeway. It is also reported that serious trouble is momentarily expected among the miners at Coal Centre, Washington county.

SIBLEY WILL STAY.

WASHINGTON, January 29.—Several days ago Representative Sibley, of Pennsylvania, resigned his seat in the house. He was not in sympathy with the tariff bill. He felt that he could not consistently support it and he thought it better to retire from public life and permit his constituents to elect a successor who would more properly represent their wishes. The resignation met with a storm of protests from many of the leading members of his party. Mr. Sibley went over to Harrisburg Saturday, and had a conference with Governor Pattison. The governor urged him to reconsider his resignation, his argument being that his withdrawal from congress at this time would work more injury to the party organization than any action which Mr. Sibley might take regarding the tariff bill. Mr. Sibley has decided to remain but the house decision will still affect his action upon the tariff bill. He is still unalterably opposed to that measure and will vote against it.

WHAT STENGER HAS TO SAY.

PHILADELPHIA, January 29.—Mr. W. S. Stenger, when shown the statement published this afternoon that Senator Markley, who was recently put forward by the Pennsylvania democracy for congressman at large, would withdraw before the close of the week: "There is no truth whatever in this statement. Mr. Markley has given no intimation of any intention to withdraw. On the contrary, he is in the field to stay unless harmony can be reached by a thorough revision of the rules that will save the masses of the party from the tyranny of the bosses. This is no child's play upon which he and the Pennsylvania democracy are indulging. They mean to get such a foothold as will ultimately dislodge machine domination, if it does not do it completely at the coming election."

IT'S THE READING.

PHILADELPHIA, January 29.—The recent surveys made in the neighborhood of Johnstown, Pa., by engineers have generally been believed to have been made for the purpose of extending the Beech Creek railroad and giving the Vanderbilt lines a competing road in that section to the Pennsylvania. It is learned, however, that the surveys are being made for a syndicate headed by several prominent Philadelphians who intend to build a road from the western terminus of the Altoona and Philadelphia connecting road through Ebensburg to Johnstown, where it will connect with the Baltimore and Ohio. If the road is built the Reading company will have a new outlet to the west for its anthracite coal and will become an active competitor in that section with the Pennsylvania.

SCALPED.

TOLSON, O., Jan. 29.—As Miss Julia Freeman was standing near the elevator in the fair building to-day the shaft pinned her head between the descending car and the gate, the back of her head being cut from ear to ear, and the skin all stripped from the skull as cleanly as though she had been scalped.

Her terrified screams could be heard for blocks. The cut on the back of her head is nine inches long. There is little hope of recovery.

"Despise not the day of small things" as the tiny pill (taken from a vial of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets) sold to the 300-pound man, suffering from indigestion. As a gentle, thorough, laxative, these Pellets resemble Nature more closely in their action than anything before discovered. Business and professional men, whose habits are sedentary, need something of this kind to ward off sick headache, biliousness and dyspepsia, but which will not strain and rack the digestive organs as did the old-fashioned pills. 25 cents per vial, at all druggists.

WILL RESUME WORK.

The Eighteen Hat Factories in Danbury Will Resume To-Day.

DANBURY, Conn., January 28.—All of the eighteen hat factories that have been involved in labor difficulties for the past nine weeks will be running to-morrow. Twelve of them opened Thursday as independent shops and the other six will start up some time to-morrow as union shops.

The six manufacturers had to secure the consent of their association, after obtaining the concessions of the unions, and at a meeting of the Manufacturer's association, last night, they were released from their bonds of $4,000 and given permission to open their shops to the union. There are certain conditions under which the manufacturers were released that are not known, but enough has been learned to make it certain that the move is only a temporary one, and they may discharge their help again inside a month. The hat makers have not returned to work in the shops that have opened independently as speedily as was at first thought, and it is asserted that these six shops will be opened to the unions to give employment to a portion of the locked out people, who are only too ready to go to work in union works, so that those who still stay out will get uneasy seeing a part of their number working and return themselves to independent shops. These six manufacturers are still members of the manufacturer's association, and their interests are all the same. The hat makers look upon the opening of the six factories to the unions as an entering wedge and say they are confident that others will follow the example.

MUSCLE AND VIGOR DIFFERENCE.

Many muscular men succumb to fatigue borne with ease by persons far their inferiors in physical strength. Muscle does not imply vigor. In fact, it is not difficult of proof that athletes do not live as long nor enjoy as good health as the average individual who is vigorous—that is to say, whose digestion and sleep are unimpaired, whose nerves are tranquil, and who has no organic tendency to disease. These requisites of vigor are conferred upon those inherently weak, no less than upon those debilitated through wasting disease, by a thorough, persistent course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the leading national tonic, indorsed and recommended by physicians of eminence. It will not endow you with the muscle of a Corbett, but it will infuse energy into your system, and renew the active and healthful performance of its functions. It averts and cures malarial, rheumatic and kidney complaints, and overcomes dyspepsia, constipation, liver trouble and nervousness.

TO SAVE HER MOTHER.

The Mistaken Devotion of a Woman for Her Parent.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 30.—Mollie Roach, a milliner, hung herself in this city on Saturday night. She committed the deed to save her old mother from starving. The two were alone in the world and were supported by the girl's labor.

Mollie often spoke of her fear that her mother would suffer, should she die first, and last year took out a $2,000 policy in a benefit society. When she was thrown out of employment by hard times in December, they were soon in debt. She tried in vain to get work.

Saturday afternoon she was missed, and early Sunday morning was found hanging dead in an empty room. She left a note warning her mother not to talk to reporters, and the facts did not leak out until the coroner completed his inquest in the afternoon.

The premiums on the policy were kept paid up and Mrs. Roach will have enough to live on for the rest of her life. Mollie was 30 years old, and bore an excellent reputation. She had told a friend that she would kill herself so that her mother could get the insurance money.

WILL RETAIN HIS SEAT.

HARRISBURG, January 28.—It is reported to-night that Congressman Sibley's resignation as the representative of the Erie Crawford district in congress will be withdrawn to-morrow and that he will retain his seat.

A sure cure for croup. Keep it handy. Mr. Clinton Campbell, Chester, Pa., says: "I can recommend Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup as a sure cure for croup. We have kept it in the house for the last 5 years and would not be without it."

A Bad Umbrella Habit Is Cured For the Outlay of $1.

Some years ago I answered an advertisement which offered in return for a $1 bill to send an infallible remedy for the habit of leaving one's umbrella behind in offices and more especially in vehicles. As a money maker that advertiser was a distinct genius, for in response to my application and in return for my dollar I received a printed slip, about 4 inches by 3 in size, with the picture of a man alighting from a hack with an open umbrella, which had got stuck fast in the door. Below the picture, which it was explained was purposely drawn out of perspective, were a few lines explaining that if a man would once impress the picture on his mind he would think of it every time he left a vehicle or car and would be prevented thereby from leaving his umbrella behind.

My indignation at this barefaced swindle was so great that what the advertiser advised actually happened. The incident and illustration both became so photographed in my mind's eye every time I carried an umbrella I thought of that absurd illustration, and the dollar I thought thrown away has since saved me many dollars a year in umbrellas. The science of mnemonics is a very peculiar one, and few people understand it. Years ago it was common to tie a knot in one's handkerchief as a reminder of anything, and this plan has been improved upon from time to time. I have a friend who always hangs his hat on one peg in his office and has a small brass file just below the peg. By hanging loose memorandums on this file he can scarcely leave the office without being reminded of important duties or engagements.

Another man, who has no clock in his office, slips memorandums in his watch pocket, so that when he looks to see if it is time to go home he will also notice whether he has forgotten anything. The only duty which no one yet has been able to remember or to invent a scheme for is mailing a letter written by one's wife. The number of times a rational business man will carry a letter around in his pocket for over a week and then sneak quietly out and mail it in the corner letter box is something remarkable, and this unaccountable neglect of husbandlike duty accounts for no end of misunderstandings and broken friendships among the victims of this species of masculine carelessness.—Waverly Magazine.

His Honor Convinced.

It has not been so very long since the old English court rules passed out of observance, and when they were in vogue nowhere were they observed more strictly than in South Carolina. A rule provided that a lawyer when he spoke in court must wear a black gown and coat, and that the sheriff must wear a cocked hat and sword. On one occasion a lawyer named Pettigree arose to speak in a case on trial.

"Mr. Pettigree," said the judge, "you have on a light coat. You cannot speak, sir."

"No, Mr. Pettigree," declared the judge, "you have on a light coat. You cannot speak, sir."

"But, your honor," insisted the lawyer, "you misinterpret. Allow me to illustrate. The law says that the barrister must wear a black gown and coat, does it not?"

"Yes," replied the judge.

"And does your honor hold that it means that both gown and coat must be black?"

"Certainly, Mr. Pettigree, certainly, sir," answered the judge.

"And the law further says," continued Mr. Pettigree, "that the advocate must wear a cocked hat and sword, does it not?"

"Yes, yes, Mr. Pettigree," the court answered somewhat impatiently.

"And do you mean to say, your honor," questioned Pettigree, "that the sword must be cocked as well as the hat?"

"Eh?—er—h'm," mused his honor. "You—er—continue your speech, Mr. Pettigree."

Natural Sanitary Agents.

There is no more effective sanitary agent than fire. The ancient who made his napkin of asbestos had but to throw it into the fire when soiled, and it could not be made cleaner. And could we but build our houses of incombustible materials the spring cleaning might be efficiently accomplished by incineration. London indeed was purified from a plague by a general conflagration. And almost the one thing which that nearly indestructible disease germ, the bacillus, cannot stand is heat.

But if heat is a great purifier cold is no less a preserver from decay. Amid the eternal snows of the arctic regions the unburied carcasses may lie fresh and uncorrupted for months. The flesh of the mammoth, buried in the frozen soil of Siberia, has resisted decay for untold centuries, and here perhaps we have one of "nature's hints to inventors," for meat is now largely preserved by freezing.

Electricity is also a sanitary agent. When Professor Tyndall was experimenting with atmospheric dust in his classical researches on the origin of the lowest forms of life, he found that an electric discharge passed through a dusty atmosphere purified it by causing the minute particles to settle. And long before these researches it was commonly said and believed that a thunderstorm purified the air. Thus a scientific foundation is found for the popular belief, and the lightning flash takes its place as an accredited sanitary agency.—Chambers' Journal.

The Weather Forecast.

He entered the meteorological service of office and said abruptly, "This 'ere's where you give out weather predictions, ain't it?"

The clerk nodded.

"Well," continued the old man, "I thought as how I could come up an give you some tips."

"Yes," said the clerk politely.

"Yes. I've figured on it a little, an I find that ye ain't always right."

"No; we sometimes make mistakes."

"Course you do. We all do some time. Now, I was thinkin as how a line that used to be on the auction handbills down in our county might do fast rate on your weather predictions an save you a lot of explanation."

"What was the line?"

"Wind an weather permittin'."

He went down without waiting to say goodbye.—London Tit-Bits.

He Overdid It.

Beggom (to himself)—I've got around that rich old granddunt of mine at last. She's interested in benevolent schemes, and I'm helping her night and day to search out worthy objects. Today she said I'd have cause for rejoicing when her will was read.

His Granddunt (to herself)—I had no idea my grandnephew was so good. It worries him almost sick to see so much misery in the world. How delighted he will be to find that all my money is to go to the support of the poor, friendless orphans!—New York Weekly.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osceola, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchener, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archam, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

MAD HOUSE BURNED.

Eight of the Unfortunate Inmates Met a Horrible Death.

Boone, Ia., January 24.—The building on the county farm in which the insane were confined burned at 10 o'clock this morning and eight of the nine inmates were burned to death. The dead are: Mary Tucker, Johanna Stiggs, Anna Saderburg, Christine Peterson, Christine Anderson, Mrs. Scott, Tom Leaser, Joseph Craig. Superintendent Holcomb says he banked the fire at 9:30 o'clock and does not know how the fire started.

The steward of the poor farm is Henry Holcomb, who lived with his wife in the poor house. They retired about the usual time last night and were asleep at 10 o'clock, when they were awakened by Mrs. Hibbard coming into the house and telling them the mad house was on fire. Mr. Holcomb rushed to the burning building, which he saw was aflame inside, and burst in the door. He could not enter, owing to the intense heat, and no sound except the crackling of the flames was heard. The poor unfortunates were already dead—either suffocated before they awoke, or lacking the intelligence to make their escape. Four of the poor creatures that were considered safe were locked in their cells at night and could not have escaped if they would. The others could have got out if intelligent enough. The poor house near by contained fourteen paupers and what little help there was available was directed toward saving this building. The tragedy was over in half an hour when the roof of the mad house fell in. The victims were seen in the coils, burned beyond recognition. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the furnace, which was overheated on account of the intensely cold weather. Mrs. Hibbard is uninjured, but not intelligent enough to give an account of the origin of the fire.

CENTRE COUNTY AWARDS.

We have received the following letter from Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard, Pa., which we gladly publish:

It may interest your readers to know that at the World's Columbian Exposition one hundred and fifteen awards were made to Pennsylvania farmers for the excellence of their exhibit of grains and seeds—officially known as Department A, group 1. Of these, six awards were made to Centre county farmers, as follows:

S. H. Bennison, Abdera, for wheat and corn.
P. F. Bottorf, Pine Grove Mills, for corn.
Isaac S. Frain, Abdera, for wheat.
Dr. H. K. Hoy, Bellefonte, for wheat.
Daniel Rothrick, Bellefonte, for wheat.
Pennsylvania State College, for wheat, oats and corn.

The State College was also given an award for butter—Department A, group 7, and will receive one of the magnificent medals issued under act of Congress. The others will each receive a very handsome diploma. Both medals and diplomas are now making under the supervision of the secretary of the treasury, and will be of a very high degree of artistic excellence. They will probably be ready for distribution by July.

THE M'GLONE MURDER.

CHESTER, Pa., January 24.—District Attorney Shaeffer has put detectives on the McGlone murder case to assist the police authorities in solving the mystery. The district attorney is satisfied that some of the witnesses at the inquest did not tell all they knew, and as the cause of death was not sufficiently clear, another post mortem examination was ordered and has been made. Whether they found anything different from that noticed by the physician who made the first examination is a matter of speculation only, as they preserve a dignified silence. A partial description of one of the men seen with McGlone on the fatal night has been obtained and the clue is being followed out.

HAD A ROUGH PASSAGE.

QUEENSTOWN, January 24.—The ship Willie Rosenfield, Captain Dunphy, which arrived at this port to-day from San Francisco, 140 days out, was in a hurricane on January 8 and shipped tremendous seas. In order to prevent the ship from foundering stern foremost the crew were compelled to let go all braces, first lashing the helm. The sails were torn to shreds and the steering house and wheels carried away. Two of the crew fell from aloft and were killed, and the captain and eight badly injured.

SIX MEN DROWNED.

CHARLESTON, S. C., January 24.—A boat containing six white men left Sullivan's Island on Monday last for the life-saving station on Morris Island. To-day the bodies of two of the men were found on the shore of Morris Island. One of them, H. Campbell, is a member of the life saving crew on Morris Island. The other, named Fred Miller, was a resident of Sullivan Island. The remaining four men are missing and are supposed to be drowned. The cause of the accident is unknown.

A MURDER TO BE CLEARED UP.
LEWISTOWN, Pa., January 24.—Five years ago the mutilated and lifeless body of Charles Haines was found in a field near Shamokin Dam, a small village opposite Sunbury. The body was riddled with bullets, and that Haines had been lured to the isolated spot and murdered has always been the common belief. The case has been one of the mysteries of this part of the state and the numerous detectives employed by the boy's father and the commissioners of Snyder county have never been able to find a clue or establish a motive for the foul act. But all the mystery surrounding the affair will soon be cleared away, as it is authentically reported that the district attorney of Snyder county has in hands a confession which will be made public as soon as several arrests are made. To add to the sensation a lawyer, who has seen the confession, says that nothing can prevent the murder from being avenged by the law within six months, so clear has the case been made.

DEATH OF J. C. MOTZ.

From the Millheim Journal we learn that on last Wednesday, shortly after midnight, Mr. J. C. Motz, of Woodward, breathed his last having reached the age of 61 years, 6 months and 26 days. The latter part of his life was a period of continuous suffering and affliction. For more than six years he was rendered almost entirely helpless by rheumatism, which had deformed him in such a manner that he had to be carried from place to place being unable to move a limb. His entire frame was racked with pain and he could scarcely be touched anywhere. Being a man of strong constitution and remarkable will power he bore his trials with heroic fortitude all these years, while his active brain still gave some thought to business affairs. In the end his mortal frame gave way until at last, hastened by consumption, the end came.

The family history of the deceased furnishes some interesting facts. J. C. Motz was born at the old homestead, where his father was born and lived and died, on the 22nd of June, 1832. John Motz, the grandfather of J. C. Motz, a sculptor and highly educated man, immigrated from Europe, and came to Centre county in the year 1786. He was the first settler on the site where Woodward is now built. He died in 1802 and left seven children. John Motz, Jr., the father of the subject of this notice died Nov. 22, 1849, leaving four children, J. C. Motz, Lydia, Sarah C. and Catharine A.

During his life Mr. Motz was merchant banker, lumberman and grain dealer. On Nov. 14, 1860 he was united in holy wedlock with Miss Miranda Reighard, his now deeply bereaved widow. The union was blessed with three sons William R., J. C. Fisher, and Frank, all of whom survive the departed.

The funeral took place on last Saturday forenoon, conducted by his pastor, Rev. C. W. Finkbinder, assisted by Rev. Zehner, of Bellefonte, and Kepner, of Madisonburg, and attended by many friends.

HE'S A HUNTER.

George Weaver, of Beech Creek township, Clinton county, says the Lock Haven Democrat, has trapped and shot this season seven catamounts, five in this county and two in Centre; two bears, two deer, two coons and two black skunks. He was in the city to-day and secured his bounty for killing the catamounts. One of the "cats" was over four feet long and is said to be one of the largest of that species of animal shot in this county. The animals were captured in the wilds near Hays station on the Beech Creek railroad.

JAIL VISITORS.

During the past few days, and especially since the Harman family has been placed in jail there is a continual stream of visitors to that place, merely to satisfy idle curiosity, that is all. While Sheriff Condo is anxious to accommodate the public by admission to inspect the prison, the large number of callers have compelled him for the past few days to close it to visitors. He was compelled to take this step and no one should feel offended.

S. S. BLAIR ASSIGNS.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., January 24.—Samuel S. Blair, of Tyrone, the superintendent of the Tyrone and Clearfield railroad company and a coal operator, has assigned his property to Michael J. McCann for the benefit of the creditors. His liabilities will exceed $50,000. The Tyrone Bank is company with a claim of $20,000 is the principal creditor.

—George B. Crawford, the pool and billiard man and cigar dealer who was burned out in the Conrad block, has moved to the room of Mrs. McCarthy, on Bishop street, and is now again fixed up in superior style and ready for business. George cordially invites all his old patrons to call around and see him, and he will endeavor to make it as entertaining for them as possible.

IN OTHER COUNTIES.

Items of Interest Clipped or Condensed From Our Exchanges.

The prohibitionists of South Williamsport, have nominated a borough ticket. John Banman, of Woodward township, Clinton county, died on the night of January 22 aged 92 years.

The Lewistown Electric Light company has purchased the Lewistown gas works, the consideration being $19,000.

The people of Patton will vote at the February election on a proposition to bond the borough for $10,000 to erect a handsome school building.

William S. Staviert, aged 64 years, died at his home in Philipsburg, on the 22d of January. He was a soldier during the late war and leaves a wife and five children.

Federicks, Munro & Co., fire brick manufacturers of Farrisville, Clinton county, have closed a contract by which an additional plant, with a capacity of 20,000 bricks per day, will be erected for them at Farrisville.

A "mad" steer frightened a number of Johnstown citizens Tuesday morning. When it was driven out of the stockyards it went on a tour of investigation and after terrorizing all whom it came near, was finally shot and killed.

Frank Barriack, a well-known bricklayer of Huntingdon, was found dead in bed at the residence of William Barriack, on Seventh street, where he boarded yesterday morning. Mr. Barriack was subject to epileptic fits, and it is supposed that death resulted therefrom. Deceased was aged about 35 years.

A five foot vein of coal was recently opened on a large tract of land owned by Judge D. L. Krebs and A. B. Shaw, near Coalport in Guilich township, Clearfield county. The coal is said to be of excellent quality and a large amount will be mined at present for home consumption, and when times brighten up a little more sidings will be put in and the coal shipped to eastern markets.

William Poorman, of Latrobe, who for the past three years has been tending bar at the Mehany house in that place, met with a painful affliction Tuesday evening in the loss of his sight. Mr. Poorman has been suffering with his eyes for some time and last night his sight suddenly left him and he had to be led from the hotel to his home. At last accounts he had not recovered his sight.

SIX REASONS WHY WOMEN WORK.

"Why do women work?" asks Walter Besant, and then he replies that there are six principal reasons:

Because their intellectual activity will not allow them to rest at home. Such a woman, for instance, was George Eliot. There are intellectual openings for them in every direction. A woman of this kind may study medicine, science, history; she may teach as well as study; she may write; she may become a journalist or an editor; she may lecture. Any of these lives are better to such a brain than the old fashioned social round and domestic duties, the embroidery, the piano playing and the small arts. These are the happy workers; but these are not the average.

Because they must earn money somehow. Among these are the unhappy workers, the unwilling workers, who, so long as they have to work for a living, miss the life they would prefer.

Because they want to make a little more money for dress or for spending. A very considerable class.

Because they have taken up a cause and feel called upon to speak, act, write and work for it.

Because they have become "advanced" women, and they want, above all things, to show that they are as good as the men.

Because their home lives are so deadly dull and unsocial and lonely and vacuous that they want a change.—[Exchange.]

THE TWELFTH DISTRICT.

Senator Grant Herring, of Bloomsburg, the new collector in the Twelfth internal revenue district, will for the present retain as his deputy the present deputy, Peter Ginter, of Lewisburg. This district is composed of twenty counties and is divided into seven divisions, each division having a deputy to look after it. The district embraces the counties in the northwestern section of the State, running as far west as Potter and Clinton and as far south as Centre. There are three gaugers: First and second divisions, Noah Deitrick; third division, W. L. Guager, of Danville. There are twenty grain distilleries in the district. There is a store keeper and gauger at each distillery. As soon as Collector Herring takes charge he will have a number of appointments to make in deputies and gaugers. City Solicitor John B. Myers, Lock Haven, is the present stamp deputy for this division.

SOME GOOD.

The Centre Democrat says: The Bellefonte Board of Trade has frequently been criticised for not doing this or that of some particular thing. The organization thus far may not have accomplished what it had already had the effect of doing considerable advertising for the town and awakening our business people to greater activity. We have the resources and some day they will be largely developed. Should the old car works plant be put in operation again the board of trade will be deserving of much credit in bringing it about.

A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:
DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim. On the 1st I used one box worth of the strongest chewing tobacco, and from one to two cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. But after using your Tablets for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

B. J. JAYLORD, Leslie, Mich.

DOUGLAS, FERRY, N. Y.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets cured me of my tobacco habit. I received them right away, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. Truly yours, MATTHEW SCHUBERT, T. O. Box 46, Farmington, Va.

CHICKADEE, OHIO.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle for me. I was a word of praise for your Tablets. My wife was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. I was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days, I was able to stop drinking, and will not touch liquor or any other such thing. I have a great desire to thank you, in order to know the cure was permanent.

—Howarth's Hibernia is the next attraction which will appear in Garman's opera house.

—Advices from the weather bureau say the cold wave is over and we may expect a rise in the temperature.

—The cold wave, which has been with us now about forty-eight hours, is about over, and we may again have more nice weather.

—"My son observe the postage stamp; its usefulness depends upon its ability to stick to one thing until it gets there. Consider this and be wise?"

—Only two weeks more until Lent begins, Easter Sunday for 1894 will be particularly early coming on March 25th. It will not come so soon again for twenty years.

—This is one time that the weather bureau was right. A cold wave did come and yet it is not a very cold one after all, as the thermometer registered twenty degrees above zero this morning.

—Mr. George B. McWilliams and Miss Nora Woerner, of Ferguson township were married in Philadelphia on the 18th instant. The groom is one of Ramey, Clearfield county's, most prosperous business men.

—In the last turkey case the Court sentenced John Rivers to pay a fine of $40, and thirty days imprisonment in the county jail. The four other boys were each sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution and were given a good lecture by the Court.

—The teachers of College, Benner, Ferguson and Harris townships will hold a local institute at Leront, commencing this evening and continuing during all of tomorrow. Prof. Sparks, of State College, and Prof. Root, of Milesburg, will be the entertainers this evening.

—On Wednesday when Mrs. Samuel Geiswite was returning from a visit with friends in Altoona, when coming down Bald Eagle valley in the train, some sneak thief attempted to steal her pocketbook. The lady caught the gentleman in the act and recovered her property. She should have had the gentleman arrested at once.

—It is now almost two weeks since the Central railroad company have been running two round trips a day from Bellefonte to Mill Hall, and yet the time table published in the Daily Gazette says but one train a day. Why don't you wake up, brethren and keep things as they should be?

—Bellefonte sports are in disgust over the result of the Corbett-Mitchell fight on Thursday. Although it was generally believed Corbett would win yet they all expected Mitchell to put up a stiffer battle than he did. The betting was light, but we heard of one man who was fool enough to bet fifty dollars even on Mitchell. That man is now searching Bellefonte for the kick in the town.

—The uptown daily said on Wednesday that the grand jury visited the Bellefonte poor house twice on Tuesday and then followed it up with a brief article lauding the present condition of the boy and leaving the inference that it was always first-class, but it refrained from saying anything about the special report of the grand jury to the Court and what the Court had to say to the poor overseers. Why don't you print the news as it is?

—There is a move being made among the people living in the vicinity of Nigh bank, about 4 miles south-east of Bellefonte, to secure a post office at that place. That would make it more convenient, as there are people living in that community who often do not get their mail for a whole week. As soon as the Central Railroad begins to carry the mails through Nittany Valley, which line passes by Nigh bank, they would get their mail twice each day, instead of once a week.

A YOUNG GIRL'S FORTUNE.

AN INTERESTING SKETCH.

Nothing appeals so strongly to a mother's affection as her daughter just budding into womanhood. Following is an instance: "Our daughter, Blanche, now 15 years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. She was in such a condition that we had to keep her from school and abandon her music lessons. In fact, we feared St. Vitus dance, and are positive but for an invaluable remedy she would have had that terrible affliction. We had employed physicians, but she received no benefit from them. The first of last August she weighed but 75 pounds, and although she has taken only three bottles of Nervine she now weighs 120 pounds; her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and studies with comfort and ease. She has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid, and no money could procure for our daughter the health Dr. Miles' Nervine has brought her."

When my brother recommended the remedy I had no faith in patent medicines, and would not listen to him, but as a last resort he sent us a bottle, we began giving it to Blanche, and the effect was almost immediate. "Mrs. R. B. Bullock, Brighton, N. Y. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or send direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from opiates or dangerous drugs."

COURT STILL IN SESSION.

Routine Proceedings of the Quarter Sessions Term.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

On the convening of court Wednesday afternoon the case of the Commonwealth vs. John Riner, et al., was resumed.

The defendant testified in his own defense that on November 25 he was over at Levi Reese's at a birthday party; left there about one o'clock for home and it was morning when I, in company with others, arrived at the home of John Riner. Saw Sharer outside and asked him in but he declined to go, saying he only wanted to know who was in that hack. I told him to come and see. The team we had was Austin Linn's—a mule and a horse. Did not stop on my way over to Reese's. It was raining when we went home and the wagon did not stop till we got home.

Riner's testimony was corroborated in every detail by Morris Fitzgerald, David Bechdel and Charles Linn. James Garland, William Linn, Morris Fitzgerald and one or two others testified that Sharer's reputation for truth and veracity was not good.

Mrs. Mary Riner, mother of the defendant, testified that no turkeys were brought home that morning.

In rebuttal W. H. Cronister testified. Live at Port Matilda about five miles from where Sharer lives. He is a good citizen.

Aaron Williams, of Bellefonte, testified that he had known Sharer a long time and never heard his reputation questioned. Others who so testified were W. S. Williams and Galor Morrison. This closed the evidence.

The case of Commonwealth vs. Homer Steele, charged with forgery and obtaining money under false pretense. As to the first indictment a not pro was entered, and the accused tried on the second charge.

The defendant was accused of having gone around in Harris and Potter townships with a subscription paper soliciting aid for parties who, he alleged, had lost their property by fire, when the facts were that no fire had occurred; it was simply a case of obtaining money, thus fraudulently, for his own use.

To prove the case the Commonwealth produced as witnesses O. W. Stover, of Harris township, who was the prosecutor; Jacob Meyer, of Harris; Cyrus Durst, David Boone, Daniel Gentzel, William Thompson, Emanuel Smith and Simon Harper all testified to having been visited by the accused and having given him money. The testimony of several other witnesses closed the evidence for the Commonwealth.

In his own behalf Homer Steele testified that he lived in Juniata county, and was not acquainted in Centre county. The book he had was given him by a man named Gentzel; he was to leave what money he obtained at a certain store; got between three and four dollars, part of which he used. The jury returned a verdict, of "guilty" without leaving the box.

THURSDAY MORNING.

On the convening of court the jury in the turkey case of the Commonwealth vs. John Riner, et al., returned a verdict of "guilty."

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Harvey Searson, forgery. W. F. Reeder assisted district attorney Slinger in the prosecution and W. E. Gray conducted the defense.

J. V. Parks, the prosecutor, called and sworn. Live at Harrisburg and am general state agent for the Aultman Taylor Co., of Ohio, manufacturers of threshing machines, reapers, etc. I have charge of all the notes of the company in Pennsylvania banks. I make all the contracts and have charge of all local agents; had a contract with Harvey Searson as agent until January 1, 1893, when it expired and he gave me a note for balance due to that date.

J. H. Fortenbaugh called. Am traveling agent under Mr. Parks for the Aultman Taylor Co.; know Harvey Searson; settled with him January 1, 1893, and took his note for $152.18 in payment. I wanted to see Mr. Decker but Searson said he was too sick to be seen.

The note was then offered in evidence and identified by J. V. Parks, who said he had received it by mail at his office in Harrisburg in January, 1893, and that he gave it to the agent.

J. E. Sheibley testified that Mr. Parks gave him the note and that he took it up to Boalsburg to see if it was all right. Searson said it was and that the endorsement was his father's.

J. V. Parks re-called. I got this note as soon as Sheibley returned, and credited it to account of Harvey Searson; I did not see him again until I saw him in Ohio. I was up at Boalsburg May 11, 1893, and again on November 24, 1893. I did not see the defendant either time. The note was presented for payment through the banks but was returned unpaid. James Searson refused to pay the note. [Note and settlement paper then offered in evidence.]

J. I. Dingus sworn. Live at Boalsburg; am acquainted with Searson's father and son—have known them several years; am acquainted with the signature of the defendant; also that of James Searson. [Specimen presented—he saw the writing done.]

J. V. Parks re-called. Saw Harvey Searson in Gallion, Ohio, last November. I went there with requisition papers from the sheriff of Dauphin county. Searson was working in a livery stable. He waived all formalities and came along with me. Commonwealth rests.

W. E. Gray opened the case for the defense and James H. Searson was sworn. Have lived in Centre county all my life did business two years ago for the Aultman Taylor Co. The company took a note of James Searson in '92 and it was paid. When final settlement was made I owed a balance of $153.18. I paid them one dollar cash and gave a note for the balance in settlement. My name was signed two different ways on the note. It was different because one was written with my right hand and one with my left. [The defendant then gave a specimen of writing with both hands.] I gave the note made up that way to close the account and get a settlement; they said they must have the money or a note with security, that is the reason I sent them this note.

Court adjourned until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Harvey Searson, the jury returned a verdict of "guilty."

The case of Commonwealth vs. Milton Harman and wife, felonious assault, was continued until the April term owing to the condition of the boy, which is very serious, even critical. This wound up all the business in the Quarter Sessions and, in the Common Pleas the case of Thomas Lauver vs. David Harter was taken up. Keller and Bower conducted the case for the plaintiff and W. F. Reeder for the defendant.

The case was an action brought by Lauver to recover a balance of $18 alleged to be due him from Harter for labor performed in 1891-'92. There were quite a number of witnesses heard on both sides, but Lauver failed to establish his case and the jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

The remaining time of Thursday afternoon was taken up with the trial of the case of Matilda D. Spotts vs. O. P. St. Clair, an action brought to test the ownership of a certain horse sold at Sheriff's sale several years ago, now held by Mr. St. Clair and claimed by Mrs. Spotts. J. C. Meyer was the plaintiff's attorney and W. F. Reeder looked after the interest of the defendant.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

On the convening of court this morning the case of Matilda D. Spotts vs. O. J. St. Clair was resumed, and the evidence of O. J. Spotts was the last for the plaintiff.

In defense the testimony of O. J. St. Clair, George Summers, and James Lauver was offered. The attorneys made brief pleas and the Court charged the jury, stating that the only question in the case was "to whom was the sale made?" and to whoever the sale was made to that person belonged the horse. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

The Court then had the recently convicted prisoners brought into court and sentenced Harvey Searson, for forgery, to pay a fine of one dollar, cost of prosecution and one year and one month's solitary confinement at hard labor in the western penitentiary. This was the minimum sentence prescribed by law. Homer Steele, for obtaining money under false pretense, was also sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs and one year and a month in the western penitentiary at solitary confinement.

The next case taken up was that of Geo. W. Campbell vs. Mary Campbell; W. F. Reeder for plaintiff, Bower and Orvis for defendant. The case is an appeal in non-assumpsit on a claim for a balance of $125 plaintiff alleges to be due him.

The case is still on trial as we go to press. The report of the grand jury, as presented in Court Thursday, is as follows:

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the County of Centre, January Session, 1894:

The grand inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, inquiring for the county of Centre, in all matter relating to the same, do respectfully report:

That they have acted upon twenty-one bills of indictment, of which eighteen were found true bills, and three bills ignored.

We beg leave further to report, that we have visited and inspected the public buildings and find the jail building in need of a number of minor repairs. First, the front entrance to the jail building should be painted or frescoed, relieving the stained or cracked plastering. The Sheriff's office should be furnished with new and suitable furniture. The plastering in corridor and jail proper should be repaired. We also find the locks on prison cell doors in general bad repair. We further recommend that a new range or cook stove be placed in the kitchen, as the one in use now is inadequate and worthless. We further report that we find the offices and vaults in Court House in good condition with the exception of the vault in the Register and Recorder's office, which should in some manner be enlarged and refurnished with modern fixtures, etc. We also recommend that the plastering be repaired in the southeast corner of the ceiling in the court room.

We respectfully tender our thanks to the Honorable Judges and District Attorney for their courtesy and assistance rendered us during our deliberations.

JOHN F. HARTER, Foreman.

January 24th, 1894.

—After four days inspection, computation, disputing, etc., the adjuster and Brokerhoff's representative finally succeeded in adjusting the loss on the burned Conrad block, the amount allowed being something over four thousand dollars.

HE DIDN'T TAKE A PAPER.

But He Probably Will When His Note Turns Up.

In this country, under our generous free school system, there is no pardonable excuse for any one not being able to read, and at the very moderate price for the yearly subscription, a newspaper can now be had in any family. Where it is otherwise it is willful ignorance, and very often proves very expensive.

The latest illustration of the kind is the case of ex-County Commissioner Daniel Bieber, of Monroe township, Snyder county, who did not deem it worth his while to subscribe for a county paper, or any other, whereby to keep himself informed as to the current events of the day. If he had done so, he to-day would not be living in suspense, says the Sellingrove Times.

Mr. Bieber is a man who has always relied on his own opinion in preference to accepting any outside suggestions and now he is in a hole.

Recently the immortal lightning rod man put in an appearance at Bieber's home and after explaining the beauty and utility of a new style of copper rod he was introducing, and informing Bieber that he was selected on account of his prominence in his neighborhood, as the man to help along the sale of the new rod, the generous offer was made to rod his entire barn for two dollars and twenty-five cents; but that this being a special offer for a special introduction purpose there must be an agreement to bind the contract.

Flattered by his selection as the most prominent man in his section, and the agent's very liberal offer, Bieber accepted the terms and signed the contract, promising himself the beautiful appearance his barn would make decked in bright new copper rods. The agent left with the contract in his possession, and Bieber has waited for the agent to appear with promised conductors, but, alas, he came not, and now some persons who read the papers have told Bieber not to lay awake nights waiting for the rods, but to replenish his pocket book to meet payment of a note that will soon put in appearance for perhaps $225 instead of $2.25 the amount named in the agreement executed by him for the rods. So the world moves on.

THE HARMAN CHILD.

This morning rumors were flying thick and fast about the Harman child now at the Bellefonte poor house. Some were in effect that the child was dead; another that he had typhoid fever; another that he was so dangerously ill that his death was only a question of hours; another that the attending physicians had found that he had lost one leg would have to be amputated. All of these rumors were untrue. The child was in the hospital, always desiring to state only the truth, called on Dr. Seibert, one of the physicians in attendance, and asked as to the true condition of the boy.

The doctor stated that the boy was convalescing; his condition is greatly improved over what it was when the boy was brought here, and that there will not be any amputation of a limb necessary. Of course, the boy is likely to have sores on his body for some time, but with proper care and treatment these will all disappear and he will become as sound and well as anybody. This morning the boy was able to walk across the room, and was as bright and talkative as could be.

Dr. Seibert stated that the most of the reports of this case have all along grossly exaggerated it; that it has not been half so bad as represented and this he requested us to say on his authority.

—The proprietor of the Magnet may be a good editor, but he is not a success as a salesman. This morning he went into an office up town and undertook to sell a gold watch that he had received in exchange for advertising. In endeavoring to make a sale he became wonderfully interested and to better show off the watch, he removed his gloves. But by this time the men in the office had got warmed up and they began to ask questions about the watch. Some of them must have been of such a character as to stagger the quill-pusher for he suddenly took his departure, leaving behind him a good pair of kid gloves which, we have no doubt, he can recover, if he calls for them. The next time the editor

—The marriage of Miss Jessie V. Gray, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Green Gray, to Mr. J. Clark Mattern, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mattern, both of Buffalo Run, was solemnized last Tuesday, the ceremony being performed at the M. E. parsonage in Storatown, by the resident pastor, Rev. A. P. Wharton. The bride and groom are now off on a tour to Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

Ripans Tabules are always ready.

Bellefonte Republican.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—No communication published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer. Correspondents should write upon but one side of the paper, and avoid the use of pale or aney inks.

EDWARD T. TUTEN.

Local Department.

—Rev. A. R. Miller, well known in Bellefonte, is mourning the death of his father.

—About 1,442,000 pounds of cardboard are used annually in making postal cards for the United States.

—Mrs. Nicolas Mann died suddenly at her home in Eagleville last Saturday. The funeral occurred on Monday.

—The democrats of Bellefonte have placed J. Miles Kephart on their ticket as a candidate for borough treasurer.

—Charles F. Cook led the four o'clock meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon. It was large and enthusiastic.

—There are rumors of two approaching marriages in high life in Bellefonte but we are not at liberty just yet to mention names.

—The trial of the case of Immel vs. Beecher and Sober took up all of Tuesday afternoon, this forenoon and may not end to-day.

—Mr. and Mrs. Milton Straub are rejoicing over the advent of a wee mite of a young lady in their family circle. Congratulations.

—G. W. Lever, son of Squire J. H. Lever, of Stormstown, is now a full-fledged merchant at Warriorsmark, Huntingdon county, Pa.

—This will be another busy week's session of Centre county court. The trial list is a large one and will occupy considerable time in exhausting it.

—Local base ball cranks are now looking with envy at New York's captain, Monte Ward. Why not sign him for next season's Bellefonte team.

—On Saturday the Stock Exchange meat market killed a beef which dressed 1,508 pounds, probably the largest animal that has been killed in Bellefonte for years.

—David B. Conrad, who has been steward at the Ward House in Tyrone for many years, has resigned his position to accept a similar one with the Potter House in Philipsburg.

—Said a young lady to the writer this morning—"It will be out on Friday." What will? "We asked. And then, with a very superior know-it-all smile, she replied: "the groundhog."

—A gentleman stepped into the DAILY NEWS sanctum recently and meekly inquired if "this was the gas office?" We as politely informed him that it was not; that the "gas office" was located up town.

—The Boston base ball club will make Corbett an offer of $10,000 to play ball with them during the season of 1894. There isn't much credit in being a fighter but there seems to be a good bit of money.

—Two recent deaths in Philipsburg are Mrs. Thomas Ashcroft, aged 28 years, who died Sunday night of consumption, and Mr. Joseph H. Ferguson, aged 64, who also died Sunday night. His death was caused by cancer.

—Next Friday will be Groundhog Day but unless this old time weather prophet fulfills his promises better in the future than he has in the recent past he might as well retire from business; his credit is almost entirely gone.

—The $50 license fee for theatrical and opera companies created quite a furore throughout the state until now there has been another lower court decision in which Judge Meshler states that, in his opinion, the $50 is to cover the entire season in this state. It will now require a decision of the Supreme Court to definitely settle the matter.

—A private meeting of some of the members of the Bellefonte bar was held on Saturday afternoon. Although we might as well tell for as last, we guess in this case we will allow our readers to guess the object, which we can assure them was not one of Love. If this is too deep for any of our Reeder(s) they can have a full explanation by applying at this office.

—Bartholomew's famous horse show will be in Bellefonte at Garman's opera house for three days, beginning Monday, February 12th. This is an attraction that every person who can should go and see. During their stay here special excursion trains will be run to Bellefonte over both the Bellefonte Central and Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, the rate to be one fare for the round trip.

—This is not the kind of weather the signal sharp care to keep long in the frame. The man who gets up with the lark is not always conditioned to sing like one. Back in the school districts the hens are setting and the farmers furrow the fields while the sleighs glide by and the snow chokes up the roads. Congressman Beltzhoover makes an oratorical sortie into history with his credit to Ingersoll from Milton; a collie dog that met trains at Hamburg for papers seventeen years regularly on week-days only dies; a bean natch at Punxsutawney ends in a riot and the tandem eel has another inuring near Reading. It has been, taken all together, a great week in weather history and other effects.

THE BOROUGH PRIMARIES.

The Following are the Correct Tickets Put Up by Both Parties.

Undoubtedly there was greater interest taken in the borough caucuses on Saturday evening than has been displayed by either party for a number of years. The ward caucuses of both Republicans and Democrats were held at seven o'clock and the borough conference at eight. The result of the above was the putting in the field of the following tickets:

REPUBLICAN.

BOROUGH.

Chief Burgess—William E. Gray.
Tax Collector—John Kline.
Poor Overseer—Isaac Miller.
Treasurer—Charles F. Cook.
Auditor—Thomas Mitchell.
High Constable—Alfred Stewart.

NORTH WARD.

Judge of Election—J. Kyle McFarlane.
Inspector—Harry Keller.
Council—James A. Beaver.
School Director—John P. Harris.

SOUTH WARD.

Judge of Election—Joel Johnston.
Inspector—J. S. McCargar.
Council—J. S. Waite.
School Director—John A. Aiken.

WEST WARD.

Judge of Election—A. V. Smith.
Inspector—Samuel H. Diehl.
Council—S. H. Williams.
School Director—John I. Olewine.

DEMOCRATIC.

BOROUGH.

Burgess—John Lane.
Tax Collector—Hugh Taylor.
Poor Overseer—Daniel Eberhart.
Treasurer—J. Miles Kephart.
Auditor—William Howley.
High Constable—Frank Miller.

NORTH WARD.

Judge of Election—Not named.
Inspector—Mitchell I. Gardner.
Council—L. A. Schaeffer.
School Director—Hammon Sechler.

SOUTH WARD.

Judge of Election—A. Sternberg.
Inspector—William Garman.
Council—Henry Brockerhoff.
School Director—Charles Smith.

WEST WARD.

Judge of Election—George Marshall.
Inspector—Jonathan Miller.
Council—W. T. Speer.
School Director—A. Lukenbach.

There was a little lively work and some few contests in the various wards and for the various offices. In the North ward there were three men for Burgess—Gray, Reeder and Keller, but Gray being the only one present, was nominated. For poor overseer there were two candidates—Isaac Miller and William Jones. The latter was defeated by only two votes and, it is generally conceded, had he been there himself he would have made the nomination. Mr. Jones developed greater strength, on so short a notice, than even his supporters anticipated. For the other offices there was but the one candidate for each and his nomination was made by acclamation. In the other wards, so far as could be learned, everything passed off smoothly.

On the democratic side of the house the party seemed to be unanimous in all nominations made. The contests were all one-sided and the unanimity was complete. Both parties have put up what they consider a fairly strong ticket, and it now remains for the voters to choose on the 20th of next month who they will have to rule.

DIED AT ROCK SPRING.

The death of the venerable Robert Glenn occurred at his home near Rock Spring on Saturday evening, Jan. 27. He was aged about 84 years. For the last year he had been afflicted with softening of the brain but at times was quite rational, always remaining closely with his family. Some ten days ago he had an attack of la grippe which hastened his death.

Mr. Glenn was one of Rock Spring's best known men, honest in all his business transactions. His word was considered as good as his note. He always took an active part in all public affairs. It was however as a farmer that he was noted, always being to the front in any movement to advance the interest of the public good. His charity fund was never exhausted; no one ever went to him to be turned empty-handed away. His wise counsels will be missed in religious as well as social circles. For forty years he was a recognized ruling elder in the Presbyterian church.

His invalid wife, two daughters, Nannie and Sade, at home, and Mrs. W. H. Bailey, at Pine Grove, together with legions of friends, mourn the death of the old patriarch whose remains will be laid away by the side of his father's in the Graysville cemetery, Wednesday at 11 o'clock a. m.

—Miss Lulu Giffin, a domestic employed at the home of John H. Currie, 1251 Washington avenue, Tyrone, was found dead in bed about 6 a. m. Saturday. Upon retiring Friday evening she remarked to Mrs. Stahl, mother-in-law of Mr. Currie, that she felt that she was going to have another attack of her old ailment, but declined to have any one remain with her. Deceased was the daughter of George W. Giffin, of Thomastown, and was aged about 16 years. She is survived by her father, stepmother, two sisters and a brother. A sister a few years ago was killed while crossing No. 13 bridge, Penn sylvania railroad, on her way to school.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The usual Monday afternoon rhetorical exercises at the Bellefonte High School began with a song, entitled, "By the noble river's side," rendered by the school; this was followed by a grand review of literary talent, such as is seldom heard outside the High school room. The program in full as rendered was as follows:

Declamation, Alfred Irvin.
Recitation, Olive Steele.
Essay, "Jewelry," Clara Cole.
"Pennsylvanias at the World's Fair," Wallace Reeder.

Recitation, Maud Smith.
Essay, "Calendars," Daisy Smith.
"Civil War," Henry Thomas.
Recitation, Lizzie Schofield.
Essay, "Books," Mary Hunter.

Declamation, Harry Smith.
Essay, "Pyramids," Bessie Bell.
Declamation, Willis Ishler.
Essay, "Religion," Mable Fauble.
Declamation, Willis Knox.
Essay, Mary Lambert.

Recitation, Sallie Knapp.
Essay, "Roger Williams," Eva Cleaver.
Recitation, Myrtle Longacre.
Essay, "Books," Larina Mattern.
Recitation, Lena Baum.

Essay, "Mice," Albert Jackson.
Declamation, Eddie McGarvey.
"Gray Hastings."

Essay, "Reading," Isabella Taylor.
"The Revolution," Wm. Runkle.

Special mention was merited by Alfred Irvin and Gray Hastings on their splendid work.

OFFICERS OF RELIEF CORPS, No. 3
At a regular meeting of Relief Corps, No. 3, located at Milesburg, in G. A. R. hall Saturday evening, January 27th, the following officers were installed to serve the ensuing year, Past Post Commander A. G. Rager, of Post 261, being the installing officer:

President—Mrs. Mary McCollum.
S. V. Pres.—Mrs. Mary Crossmire.
J. V. Pres.—Mrs. Annie Confor.
Treasurer—Mrs. Annie Stonerode.
Secretary—Mrs. Sadie McKinley.
Chaplain—Mrs. Jennie Shultz.
Conductress—Mrs. Lucy Watson.
Asth. Conductress—Mrs. Kate Strong.
Guard—Mrs. Jennie Vaughn.
Asth. Guard—Mrs. Ella Crossmire.

Quite a large number of the members of Post 261 were present and everyone made brief speeches to encourage these noble ladies in their work. The most pleasant part of the evening's work was the presentation of a Past President's badge to Mrs. Lucy Watson, the retiring President. The presentation speech was made by Comrade W. H. Musser, of Geo. L. Potter Post, No. 261.

This Relief Corps is the third one organized in Pennsylvania, and is in a very flourishing condition. The Post and Relief corps are working in unison and are doing a great deal of good in Milesburg and Boggs township. They have kept many an old soldier off the township.

The order announcing the inspection requires that special attention be given by the brigade inspectors to the armories, their condition and location, also to the condition of the blankets, great coats, blanket bags, canteens and haversacks, and the quantity and quality of ammunition on hand. They will make a detailed report of the same. When the inspections are completed, the brigade inspector is ordered to make report of such inspection to the Inspector General, but should the inspections show cases to which immediate attention should be given, special reports will be made and forwarded at once.

AMONG THE SICK.

Dr. H. K. Hoy is confined to his bed with a severe attack of la grippe.

Master Middy McGarvey on Lamb street is seriously ill with a severe attack of pneumonia.

Tyrone and Williamsport both have one case of small pox within their limits. A strict quarantine has been placed and the authorities expect to confine the dread disease to its present limits. In Tyrone the Board of Health has put forth the compulsory edict that all school children must be vaccinated.

—There seems to be an impression that because the name of W. F. Reeder, Esq., was presented in the North ward caucus Saturday night as a candidate for Burgess, that gentleman was a candidate and was beaten for the nomination. This was not the case as Mr. Reeder had been asked to allow his name to be used as a candidate, but had positively declined to do so. The man who nominated him in the North ward caucus did so without his knowledge or consent, but merely as a compliment to Mr. Reeder.

THE CENTRAL'S EXCURSION.

Tuesday evening proved a most auspicious one for the much-anticipated excursion given by the Central Railroad company to Williamsport to witness the rendition of the famous opera, "Robin Hood." Quite a large crowd of people went down to the new depot to see the special train, which consisted of a smoking car and two of those handsome coaches and drawn by the large engine No. 6—"Ne-ha-ma-ne," pull out. It was just 5.23 when conductor Hall gave the signal and engineer Charles Gilmour pulled the throttle and away rolled the train as smoothly as if on a road whose bed had been used for years.

It was a happy party aboard the train. All told there were one hundred and thirteen people on the train when it reached Lock Haven who took advantage of the low-rate excursion to make the trip. Of course Superintendent J. W. Gephart went along and with General Freight Agent Frank Warfield took general charge of the train and saw that everybody was made comfortable and had a pleasant time. The run to Mill Hall was the most delightful part of the trip. At Mill Hall there was a slight delay and a change of engines, after which the train sped on to the lumber city. It was just about 8 o'clock when the excursionists arrived at their destination and a few minutes walk brought them to the Lycoming opera house.

Most everyone present enjoyed the opera, which was well rendered, while every person was loud in their praise of the appointments and beauty of the opera house, which they declare has no equal outside the large cities. After the show was over the Bellefonte excursionists repaired to the City Hotel where they partook of a fine lunch, especially prepared for their enjoyment. It was just about twelve o'clock when the train pulled out on the return trip and the run home, made without any incident worthy of mention, ended at 2.55 o'clock when the train pulled into the depot at this place. All in all it was a pleasant trip and one greatly enjoyed by every person who took advantage of it.

DEATH OF DR. JAMES IRWIN.

News has been received of the death of Dr. James Irwin, of Landers, Wy. Dr. James Irwin was a native and former resident of Centre county, who went west nearly forty years ago. He has three sisters and a brother living. They are Ellis Irwin, Esq., of Lick Run Mills, Clearfield county; Mrs. Melissa Hagerman, of Bellefonte; Mrs. James C. Williams, of Philipsburg; and Mrs. Augustus Hyman, of Waukesha, Wis. He was 76 years old. He read medicine under Dr. Henry Lorraine, deceased, formerly of Philipsburg, and graduated at the Jefferson Medical college. He practiced his profession at Curwensville, Red Bank, Bellefonte and Snow Shoe for several years and then went to Iowa. When the war broke out he enlisted in the army and served until the close of the war, when he was appointed Indian agent, which position he filled until incapacitated by age and its attendant infirmities.

His wife, who died a few years ago, was Miss Matilda Trumbull, whose parents came from Connecticut to Red Bank.

Dr. Irwin had four children. Harry, the eldest, died at Snow Shoe; Frank, the second son, was massacred by the Indians at Atlantic City, South Pass, W. Y.; Gertrude, deceased wife of Dr. William Stevenson, of Landers, and Nettie, wife of William Chalmers, of Landers, Wy.

MR. CRAWFORD'S NEW LOCATION.

Mr. George B. Crawford, who was burned out in the late fire, has now permanently located in the McCarthy room, next door to Doll's shoe store, on Bishop street, Bellefonte. He has now on hand a new and full stock of cigars, tobacco, oranges, bananas, confectionery, etc. He has also had his tables finely fixed up and they are now in elegant shape for playing. Mr. Crawford invites all his old patrons to visit him as usual, and to those who never did patronize him a special invitation is extended to call. He keeps the best of cigars, tobacco, etc., and can offer them better entertainment than can be had any where else in Bellefonte.

THIEVES AT WORK.

Some time during Monday night thieves broke into the smokehouse of Orrie Miller, on East High street, and carried off all the meat and sausage of two good-sized hogs, with the exception of two hams. They also took from the clothesline in Isaac Miller's yard some clothing—mostly shirts. The robbers were tracked this morning across lots to the rear of the jail where they came out on High street and, among the numerous other tracks, the trail was lost. There is not the least clew to who the thieves might be, but whoever they were, they prepared for the inner as well as the outer man.

PERSONAL PENCILINGS.

"Billy" Tobias was an arrival on the early morning train from Millheim.

Mrs. A. G. Bloom, of Lock Haven, is visiting friends at Spring Mills, this county.

Miss Miller, of Huntingdon, is a guest of her friend, Miss Blanche Hayes, in this place.

Mrs. Daniel Snyder, of North Allegheny street, is suffering with a severe attack of the grip.

Hon. Leonard Rhone with his estimable wife spent Monday in Bellefonte the guests of Dr. J. W. Rhone.

Mrs. John Zimmerman, of New York City, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Adams, in this place.

Miss Maud Spigelmyer is off on a vacation visiting her sister, Mrs. John Huffman, in Williamsport.

Miss Grace Beiderman departed on the 10.15 train Thursday morning for a brief visit with friends in Julian.

The Misses Stoughton, of Lewisburg, are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spigelmyer, on Penn street.

Hereafter Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kurtz will be "at home" at the Brockerhoff House, they having taken rooms there for the winter.

Mrs. Saltman and her daughter, Miss Jessie, of Hastings, are visitors at the residence of Geo. D. H. Hastings, on Allegheny street.

Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, who has been visiting friends in this place for some time past, returned to her home in Philipsburg Wednesday morning.

Mrs. John P. Harris and her daughter, Dr. Edith Harris, are in Freeport, called there by the serious illness of Mrs. Harris' father, Mr. Scott.

Mr. A. M. Mott, the well known dealer in gravestones and monuments, was in Renovo a few days of this week looking up his business interests.

Mrs. J. E. Dayton, of Williamsport, was an arrival in Bellefonte on Friday and will spend Sunday here the guest of Mrs. John Ardell, on East Linn street.

Wentworth Shortlidge, a son of Dr. Swithin C. Shortlidge, of Media, Pa., has come to live with his uncle, Col. William Shortlidge, on Thomas street.

Miss Nell North, of Millin, Pa., and Miss Brotherlin, of Lima, Ohio, are being entertained at the palatial residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider, on Linn street.

William Tobias, son of Abram Tobias, formerly of this county, but for the last twelve years doing business in Salt Lake City, Utah, is visiting old friends in Pennsylvania.

Miss Elsie Halderman, a granddaughter of Hon. Simon Cameron, is being entertained by Miss Mary Linn, at the residence of her father, Hon. John B. Linn, on Allegheny street.

Mrs. John McDonough, of Kentucky, with her two daughters arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday evening, called here by the illness of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sarah McDonough, of Water street.

Solomon Peck, of Nittany Valley, spent Wednesday night in Bellefonte, and discussed at length on the advantages of the new Central railroad of Pennsylvania. Sol. evidently knows a good thing when he sees it.

Mr. Ed. Brown, Jr., of Bishop street, is away on a business trip to Pittsburg. We would not be surprised to see him come home with a full-sized base ball team for Bellefonte, especially as the summer season is drawing nearer.

Messrs. J. C. P. Jones and John I. Martin, two of Milesburg's old soldiers whose pensions were suspended, but who expected a speedy restoration, are still on the "expecting" list. Mr. Jones, now being sick in bed, feels the need of the pittance allowed him more keenly than ever.

The bald-headed editor of the Philipsburg Ledger, Mr. Harry Williams, transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday. Harry is a first rate all around fellow, somewhat of a ladies man, and has little trouble in making his way through the meshes of this world's trials and tribulations.

Word has just been received from Misses Rebekah Blanchard and Eleanor Mitchell, at Wellesley College, Mass., that they very successfully passed their first examination at that institution and are now regularly installed students. This is quite a compliment to the educational facilities and standing of the Bellefonte Academy, as both these young ladies were admitted on certificate, and Wellesley is now a college that enforces a more rigid examination than perhaps any other College in the United States.

Miss Maud McDermott is visiting friends in Lock Haven.

Miss Edith Elise, of Milesburg, is visiting friends in Tyrone.

Capt. Snyder, of Eagleville, is in attendance at court this week.

Mrs. Frank Stutzman, of Williamsport, is visiting friends at Howard, this county.

Mr. W. G. Brown, an insurance agent from Clearfield, spent Tuesday night in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Gerrity are rejoicing over the arrival of a young son in their household, which important event occurred last Thursday.

Mr. Thomas Orison departed on Monday afternoon for Davis, Tucker Co., Va., where he will take charge of a general merchandise store connected with a large lumber business. Tom, we have no doubt, will prove the right man for such a position.

Ed. McEntire, Esq., son of Mr. J. B. McEntire, of Fillmore, and a brother of Dentist McEntire in this place, is at present in Bellefonte on a business trip. Ed. is now a full-fledged and flourishing attorney in Missouri, and he looks as if the great west was agreeing with him.

Mr. Joseph Cester departed Tuesday afternoon for West Chester to visit his daughter, Miss Mame, who is attending school at that place. The visit will have a double significance, as to-day is that young lady's birthday, and the visit of her father will be a very pleasant surprise to her.

Landlord John G. Uzzle, of Snow Shoe, was in Bellefonte to-day transacting a little business. Mr. Uzzle comes to Bellefonte frequently and is always sure of a hearty welcome from his numerous friends. And when Bellefonters go to Snow Shoe they generally make it suit to be around John's hotel about meal time.

J. "Monte" Ward, the famous New York base ball player, and his brother Charles Ward, were arrivals in Bellefonte on Tuesday, called here by a case in court in which they are interested. The famous ball player is beginning to look a little older than he did when he first twirled the sphere many years ago.

Attorney John G. Love, of Bellefonte, was in town Tuesday. He is a candidate for the Republican nomination for president judge of Centre county and met with gratifying encouragement in Philipsburg. He is an able attorney and those who are qualified to give an opinion claim that he would be an excellent judge.—Philipsburg Ledger.

Rev. James P. Hughes was a juror this week and, while serving on a jury that had quite a lengthy sitting, he unconsciously fell asleep; that is, he looked as if he was asleep, and the Court was heard to remark that "Mr. Hughes must think himself in church, listening to a sermon." As both the Court and Mr. Hughes are Presbyterians, we presume they know each others weakness.

MARRIED.

TONER—FISHER.—At the Reformed parsonage, Walker, Pa., on January 17, 1894, by Rev. F. W. Brown, Mr. Franklin Toner, of Mackeyville, Clinton county, and Miss Mary Fisher, of Nittany Hall.

BARTLEY—SNAVELY.—At the Reformed parsonage, Walker, Pa., on January 18, 1894, by Rev. F. W. Brown, Mr. John C. Bartley and Miss Clara Snavely, both of Walker township, Pa.

—If Peter Jackson will only knock Corbett out he shall only be too glad to favor the fight. If there is anything that would give pugilism its quietus it would be to see the championship of the world carried off by an Australian coon.
